Bryan said they were told that the pipe would be drilled under Rte. 101 and not laid in the middle of the road. Johnson said that was a state easement and to comply with their permitting requirements they had to be 25 feet from any structure. Johnson said they will do a saw cut, patch it, let it go through a frost season, and then come back next year and make any necessary changes.

Johnson said they will be working for another 4-6 weeks and is willing to draft an agreement in writing for the repair work to bring everything back up to where it was before construction started. He said not to hesitate to call with any concerns. The board thanked Johnson for coming in and he left at this time.
